

Hamilton Xuanyang Zhi

Ithaca, NY | xz979@cornell.edu | linkedin.com/in/hamilton-zhi | hamiltonzhi.github.io/hamiltonzhi

EDUCATION

Cornell University, College of Arts and Sciences

B.A. in Economics and Music. GPA: 4.1 / 4.3.

Ithaca, NY

Expected May 2029

Beijing No. 2 Middle School, International Division

Student Union President. Class of 2025 Award of Excellent Student (1 of 60). GPA: 3.97 / 4.00.

Beijing, China

Jun 2025

EXPERIENCE

Cohort Representative

Aug 2025 – Present

Coast to Coast (C2C) Finance Mentorship Program

Remote

Set agendas for weekly seminars with six industry mentors across valuation, credit, and derivatives.

Research and present trade proposals for a simulated $50K portfolio spanning equity, fixed income, and digital assets, then vote with the cohort on final allocation.

Defend each proposal against mentor challenge on assumptions, downside cases, and position sizing.

Founder

Mar 2024 – Sep 2024

Vision Melody Charity Music Festival

Shanghai, China

Built the ticket pricing model and sold 400 tickets for roughly $18K in first-year revenue, donating close to $7K of proceeds to the China Open Blind Music Organization.

Negotiated venue, equipment, and sponsorship contracts with vendors, and recruited 35 student artists and professional bands.

Conducted field research on regional performance forms in Inner Mongolia to shape programming and social media.

PROJECTS

Equity Research and Valuation

Aug 2025 – Present

Write investment memos across equities, credit, fixed income, FX, derivatives, and digital assets, building three-statement models, DCF valuations, trading comparables, and sensitivity tables.

Pitched PLTR, ORCL, GTLB, TROW, SPGI, SBUX, V, RMS, and LVMH, plus HYPE and ETH vs. SOL, a second-lien high-yield bond, and macro trades across rates, FX, and commodities.

Published all 18 memos on GitHub, grouped into six volumes by the question each one answers.

Analysis on the Development and Marketing Strategy of Chinese Classical Music Industry in the New Media Era

Mar 2024 – Aug 2024

Sole Author, Communications in Humanities Research, 39(1), 150-155

Evaluated China's classical music sector's income structure and symphony orchestra marketing strategies, proposing new media approaches to reverse the decline in participation among younger audiences. Supervised by Dr. Lu, University of Edinburgh.

Innovating the Tuba Manufacturing Process

Sep 2023 – Jun 2025

Researched tuba manufacturing theory, engineering structure, and maintenance techniques, and authored the report "Innovations in Component Materials of the Tuba."

Worked with instrument manufacturer Jupiter (Beijing Studio) to design a component cost-reduction plan to lower the instrument's retail price for general buyers.

ACTIVITIES & LEADERSHIP

Barbara & Richard T. Silver Wind Symphony, Cornell University

Aug 2025 – Present

Principal Tuba

Hold the principal chair and lead the brass section, with guest conducting credits including Shostakovich's Overture, Folk Festival from The Gadfly, and Waltz No. 2.

Chorale, Cornell University

Aug 2026 – Present

Bass I

Perform SATB repertoire to professional standards across languages and historical styles, on an accelerated concert schedule.

SKILLS

Finance: Financial Modeling, Bloomberg, Capital IQ, Equity Research, Valuation, Python, Excel, GitHub

Languages: Mandarin (native), English (fluent)

Interests: Classical Music, Tuba, Musical Theater, Wind Conducting